

Keep it Separate

Cross contamination is the spread of bacteria from raw meat to other foods.

Copyright © International Association for Food Protection

To avoid cross contamination:

- Separate raw meat below or away from other foods
- Wash and Sanitize equipment after you use it for raw meat
- Wash your hands after touching raw meat
- Sanitize with sanitizers used only with raw meat